

Selden Dunbar Illick

Selden Dunbar Illick, LCSW, has been in private practice for over 30 years and is licensed in both New Jersey and Florida. She founded the Princeton Family Center based on Murray Bowen's natural systems theory and is a Trustee Emeritus of the board of the Princeton Family Center for Education. She also serves on the board of the Florida Family Research Network. Ms. Illick consults with people who are interested in better-navigating the challenges of everyday life. She is a frequent presenter on the topic of managing self in family emotional systems and recently contributed a chapter titled "Unresolved Emotional Attachments in a Family with Chronic Illness and Death" to Death and Chronic Illness in the Family: Bowen Family Systems Theory Perspectives.